

SUPREME COURT DECIDES MANY IMPORTANT CASES

FOURTEEN CASES WHICH HAD BEEN ARGUED WERE LEFT UNDECIDED

Court Decides Inter-Mountain Rate Case, California Land Grant Case, Pipe Line, Lumber Trust and Several Other Important Cases—Court Disposes of 591 Cases During Term.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The supreme court today adjourned until next October after deciding the inter-mountain rate case, the California land grant case, the pipe line case, the lumber trust case and several other important cases which had been pending for many months.

Just fourteen cases in which arguments had been made were left undecided. These include the cases involving the constitutionality of the "grandfather clauses" limiting the right of negroes to vote in Alabama and the Middle of the Road case involving the validity of President Taft's withdrawal of oil lands from entry. The court during the term disposed of more cases than in any year since 1890. Five hundred and ninety one decisions were handed down.

Inter-Mountain Rates Sustained.
The inter-state commerce commission's so-called inter-mountain rate orders were sustained as valid today by the supreme court which held, at the same time, that the long and short hauls clause of the inter-state commerce law was constitutional. Both had been attacked by the transcontinental railroads.

Railroad's Title Upheld.
Title of Transcontinental railroads to $700,000,000 worth of petroleum land as against other private claimants was upheld today by the supreme court. In a test suit brought by Edmund Burke of California, against the Southern Pacific railroad company. At the same time Justice VanDevanter, for the court, stated that seemingly the government's right to attack the railroad's title for fraud or error had expired in 1900 or 1901.

Decision Removes All Doubt.
Doubt cast upon the validity of vows to property in many Catholic orders was removed today by the supreme court, reversing the decision of the eighth United States circuit court of appeals.

The lower court, sitting in Minnesota, held the vows void as against public policy on the ground that they did not permit a person making them ever to withdraw from the order. The supreme court today, speaking through Justice Hughes, announced that the lower court had fallen into error by not distinguishing between the religious and civil natures of the vows.

It was pointed out a person was permitted under the organization of the orders to withdraw civilly, although his withdrawal in a religious sense was a matter of conscience.

The case arose in the settlement of the estate of Father Augustin Wirth, in charge of a church at Springfield, Minnesota. Relatives claimed property in his possession at the time of his death, despite his vow to the order of St. Benedict to possess no property and turn over to the order all his worldly possessions.

Upholds State Statutes.
The supreme court today upheld the validity of the state statutes under which the supreme court of Tennessee held that former slaves have no inheritable blood and cannot inherit property under the ordinary rules of kinship.

Railroads Not Liable For Injury.
Railroads are not liable for injury to inter-state employees or members of their families riding on passes which contain stipulations that the passenger assumes all risks while being so transported. The supreme court today so decided and held that a pass is not to be regarded as part of the compensation for which the employee works but is in reality free and subject to any conditions the railroad may impose.

Standard Oil Loses Fight.
Standard Oil lost its vigorously waged fight against government regulations of its pipe lines today when the supreme court upheld the validity of the amendment to the Hepburn rate law which declares oil pipe lines across state lines common carriers subject to the authority of the inter-state commerce commission.

The court exempted from the operation of the act the Uncle Sam Oil company, an independent. Chief Justice White and Justice McKenna dissenting from this action.

Decline to Issue Injunction.
The supreme court today declined to issue an injunction restraining the treasury department from granting Cuban sugar the twenty percent differential provided by treaty in addition to the new reduced rates of the tariff law.

APPEAL IS DISMISSED.
Washington, June 22.—The appeal of the state of Illinois from the refusal of the supreme court of Illinois to restrain the economy light and power company from erecting a dam across the Des Plaines river was dismissed tonight by the supreme court for want of jurisdiction.

Floods Do Great Damage to Kansas Crops

Kansas City, June 22.—Dozens of creeks and rivers in northeast Kansas today left their banks and flooded the surrounding country as a result of the heaviest rains in years that fell last night and early today. In the vicinity of Potter, Kansas, fourteen inches of rain was reported and at Valley Falls, the precipitation amounted to nine and three eighths inches.

Railroad traffic is demoralized, four lines out of Atchison having annulled their trains and every railway entering Leavenworth reporting bridges out. Many towns are isolated as the result of water covered tracks and destroyed bridges and it probably will be several days before normal railway service is resumed. Wires are down at many points. Whole wheat fields were swept away, corn damaged, and much livestock lost in Stranger Creek Valley, south of Atchison. Numbers of families were obliged to abandon their homes. Flood water from Delaware River near Valley Falls carried the wheat crop away from bottom lands and washed out two railroad bridges. There was practically no service today on the railroads in the flooded district.

TILL OF ENORMOUS PRICES PAID BY COMPANY FOR PLANTS

Witness Asserts American Can Co. Paid $750,000 for Factories Worth From $25,000 to $30,000—Tells of Other Sales.

Baltimore, June 22.—Enormous prices were paid by the American Can company to several Baltimore makers for their plants, according to testimony this afternoon at the hearing here before Examiner Edward Hacker in the suit of the United States government asking for dissolution of the American Can company. John Black of Black & Krebs, testified that about $750,000 was paid for the Baltimore and Indianapolis factories of that concern. They were said to be worth from $25,000 to $30,000 each.

William Fatt was paid $200,000 for his plant, the machinery being worth about $18,000.

Theodore N. Nagle, secretary and treasurer of the R. Tynes Smith Can company, said $250,000 was paid for his plant. The plant and lease were worth about $35,000 and the machinery about $25,000.

Mr. Fatt testified that before the formation of the American Can company competition was keen and a certain kind of can brought $16 to $18 a thousand. Afterward the market price was $30 a thousand.

American League Executive Declares Idea Was Suggested to National Commission and is Merely a Possibility.

Chicago, June 22.—"There will be no third major league this season," if at all," said President Ban Johnson of the American league today. "The third league idea was suggested to the national commission and is merely a possibility. No definite action was taken at our New York meeting. We are going to take a month or two at least to think that third major league business over," said Johnson. "It is too late this year to take any active measures of any kind."

Johnson and Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans had a long talk after today's game. It is believed they discussed proposed legal action to restrain Hal Chase playing with the Buffalo Federals.

The first venire of forty men had been exhausted and before adjourning court Judge Irwin ordered that a special venire of 100 men be on hand when the trial is resumed tomorrow.

Petras' case free in the court room, he smiled, joked and held long animated conversations with his wife and appeared to have no more concern with the proceedings than any casual spectator.

CORONER'S JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Owner of Lions Who Killed Elmer Dietrich Declares Keeper Should Have Entered Cage When Attack Was Made.

Chicago, June 22.—The death of Elmer Dietrich, killed by lions here yesterday when he entered their cage, was accidental, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury today.

Miss Adgie Castillo, a vaudeville performer, who used the lions in her act and who was engaged to marry Dietrich, her manager, declared that George McCord, the keeper, should have entered the cage when the attack was made.

"It would have been death to do so," replied McCord. "The beasts were enraged and I did the best I could with a fork with which I speared them through the bars."

Miss Castillo refused to allow any of the lions to be killed. She said they were merely beasts and should not be blamed because their jungle instincts got the better of them.

Smith resolution for investigation in connection with the proposed Nicaraguan treaty presented in executive session.

Adjourned at 5:20 p. m. to noon Tuesday.

Met at noon.
Debate was resumed on the Sundry civil appropriation bill.

Adjourned at 5:40 p. m. until 11 a. m. Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Creation of a commission with broad authority to control federal activity in waterway improvement was proposed today in an amendment to the pending rivers and harbors appropriation bill by Senator Newlands. This plan to regulate the expenditure of millions taken from the national treasury every year was drafted by a cabinet committee and approved by the president.

Under the river regulation amendment a commission composed of the secretaries of war, interior, agriculture and commerce, two senators and two representatives would be given to investigate questions "relating to the development, improvement, regulation and control of navigation, as a part of inter-state and foreign commerce land reclamation, control of floods and co-operations of railways and waterways."

The provision would authorize the commission to co-ordinate the various government services now working on waterway improvement and to work with the various local government authorities in its investigations. The amendment would appropriate $500 for the commission's expenses.

Again Exempts Labor Unions.
The house again tonight went on record as exempting labor unions from prosecution under the anti-trust laws. A provision in the sundry civil appropriation bills appropriating $300,000 for enforcement of the anti-trust laws was adopted after a sharp and protracted political debate over the provision exempting labor and agricultural organizations.

This provision says: "No part of this money shall be spent in prosecutions of any organization or individual for entering into any combination or agreement having in view the increasing of wages, shortening of hours or bettering the conditions of labor or for any act done in furtherance thereof not in itself unlawful."

"No part of this appropriation shall be expended for the prosecution of producers of farm products and associations of farmers who co-operate and organize for obtaining and maintaining fair and reasonable price for their products."

Greece Wants Battleships.
With the Turkish government formally protesting against the proposed sale of the American battleships Mississippi and Idaho to Greece, rumbling of war between Greece and Turkey were carried today to the white house.

The diplomatic representative of President Wilson within a few minutes of each other, one to urge and the other to oppose the warship deal. Greece takes the position that if she buys the vessels the balance of power in the Mediterranean will be preserved and peace maintained while Turkey claims that the refusal of the United States to aid in augmenting her naval force.

President Wilson told callers earlier in the day that he favored the sale of the battleships to Greece because it had been represented to him that such action would be in the interest of peace. He said that if he thought the vessels would be used in an immediate war he would not consent to their sale.

The question of the sale of the battleships is to come up in the house tomorrow on a senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill. Secretary Daniels desires the $12,000,000 which Greece is willing to pay for the battleships to build a dreadnought similar to the Wyoming and most of the leaders in congress have been inclined to authorize the step.

The new Turkish ambassador Rustem Bey and the Greek charge d'affaires A. Vouros, presented to the president their views on the battleship controversy.

Two Thousand Volunteers Fight Oil Fire

Washington, Pa., June 22.—Twenty persons were injured, one seriously, eight houses destroyed by fire and six others blown up by dynamite as the result of lightning setting fire to a tank of the southern pipe lines containing 25,000 barrels of oil at Meadowslands near here. The oil tank was ignited during an electrical storm last night and efforts to extinguish the blaze have been futile. A partial collapse of the tank caused the burning oil to spread over a wide territory. Two thousand volunteers are fighting the fire and late tonight it was believed danger had passed.

When the burning fluid streamed over the valley one of the fiery streams swept towards fifty houses belonging to the United Coal company. Within a few minutes eight of the structures were burned. Finally a large force of men succeeded in turning the oil in another direction. Another stream rushed for a hillside where many persons had gathered to witness the fire. In a scramble to escape twenty persons were trampled.

Later they were told if conditions changed the men would be pleased to have them take up the dispute and would send for them.

CARELESSNESS IN DIPHTHERIA.
City Health Warden Dr. A. M. King stated yesterday that carelessness on the part of friends of those having diphtheria is inflicting a great injury upon the communities where the infection exists. In each of the three neighborhoods in the city where there are diphtheria cases those who go in and out all hours of the day are well nigh criminally negligent. There appears to be no forethought on the part of those who continue this practice. They know that cases of diphtheria exist but evidently have no sense of the danger they are placing upon themselves and the community as well.

In cases where throat affections are found it would be far better for the members of the immediate family to be inconvenienced and possibly quarantined in preference to placing the entire neighborhood in danger of such a disease.

HOW FRENCH PEOPLE CURE STOMACH TROUBLE.

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said to possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is its action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and can now be had at almost any drug store. It is now sold here by all druggists.—adv.

MAY HOLD INFORMAL PEACE DISCUSSION

CONSTITUTIONALIST REPRESENTATIVES ASKED TO MEET DELEGATES

Carranza is Asked to Send a Representative to Niagara Falls to Meet the American and Huerta Delegates in an Informal Discussion of the Peace Proposals.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Officials of the Washington government whose hopes for peace in Mexico had been somewhat dampened by the events of the past week, were wearing hopeful smiles again today when the announcement came from Niagara Falls that the United States had extended an invitation to representatives of the Mexican constitutionalists to meet the American and Huerta delegates to the mediation conference to an informal discussion of the peace proposals.

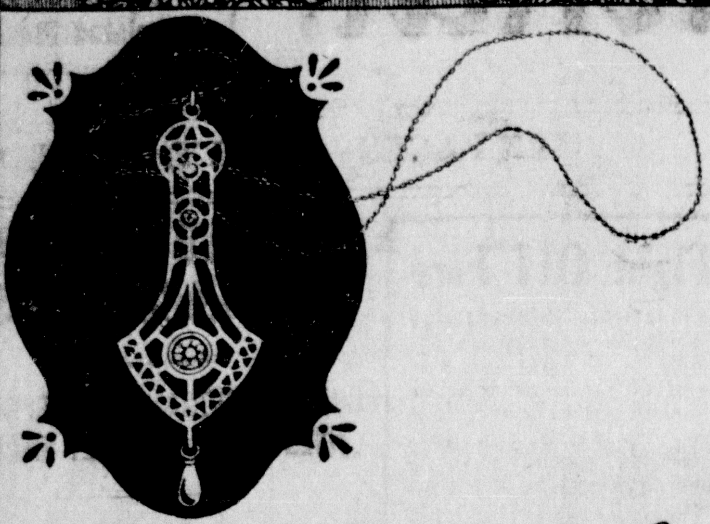

The invitation was given that before many days representatives of the constitutionalists would proceed to Niagara Falls.

This development, it is declared, is an assurance that mediation will be prolonged with increased hope of agreement. The announcement from Niagara Falls today was reported to have been the culmination of prolonged informal negotiations by the Washington administration with General Carranza, General Villa and the revolutionist chieftains in Mexico and the conference held here last week by Minister Naon of Argentina. After the conferences, General Carranza and his agents here were in telegraphic communication for several hours. Subsequently there started from Mexico for Washington, Fernando Iglesias Calderon, Alfredo Breceda and Leopoldo Huertado Espinosa as representatives of the constitutionalist movement. These men, it is believed here, are to take charge of the informal discussion.

Proposals of the administration today indicated that the plan of averting abrupt ending of mediation not presented would be prophetic of results. They looked for prompt response from the constitutionalist leaders.

In the meantime the military campaign under direction of General Villa against the Mexico City government is expected to wage with increased vigor. It is suggested that General Huerta might resign and be out of the way before Villa's army could reach Mexico City and that there would be no reason for further conquest pending the outcome of mediation.

Reports from Admiral Howard today showed that small places along the Mexican Pacific coast were falling into the hands of the constitutionalists almost daily. Manzanillo was reported cut off from railroad communication while Mazatlan and Guaymas still are held by small forces of besieged federals who have been compelled

MANY CONCRETE CULVERTS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

County Road Superintendent Busy With Plan for This Class of Work.

County Road Supt. Baldwin is devoting special attention just now to the construction of concrete culverts in various parts of the county. Very little has previously been done in this line, but construction work has begun or plans have been prepared for fourteen culverts of this kind. They are of reinforced concrete construction and are being erected in accordance with the provisions of the Tice road law.

Included in the list are five in district No. 4, which were prepared at the request of A. L. French, one in district No. 1 for W. T. Richardson, one in district No. 6 for H. Burmeister, one in district No. 4 for R. Steinberg, one in district No. 11 for Charles Dolan, one each in districts No. 3 and 13 and three in No. 10.

A good deal of other special work is also under way. The contract for a fill to make a crossing over the C., B. & Q. railroad at a point south of Chapin has been let to James Guinane. It will require the removal of 4,000 yards of dirt. The contract has been let to William Nunes for road work and grading west of the Point church which calls for the removal of 3,800 yards of earth. This portion of the district is looked after by Commissioner Jewsbury.

FROM SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.
George M. Erlison of Upland, Cal., is visiting relatives in this city and vicinity. He is principally engaged in building and reports business reasonably good where he is situated, some forty miles from Los Angeles. Mr. Erlison is accompanied by his daughter Lena and expects to remain in the county some two months. He says the evil effects of the great freeze which wrought such havoc with the orange crop has about disappeared and there is more prosperity among the fruit growers than there was a while back. Several families of Silcox are in his vicinity and are generally doing well.

FARM NOTES.

Egg-a-Day Hen a Possibility.—Will poultry breeders ultimately succeed in producing a hen which will lay an egg every day? Such an accomplishment seems quite within the bounds of possibility, judging by the wonderful record established by Professor James Dryden, who has succeeded in rearing a hen that has laid no fewer than 291 eggs in a year. Before this American accomplishment the world's record was held by Canada, with a pure-bred hen that had laid 282 eggs in 365 days.

The hen in question was hatched on April 29, 1912, and began laying when only five and one half months old. Not only is she a cross bred bird herself, but the parent birds were also cross bred. There was nothing extraordinary in either of these, excepting the fact that the mother hen was a prolific layer of eggs, a trait that has emphasized itself to an extraordinary degree in her offspring. No special care or attention was bestowed upon this abnormal egg producer. She was reared and fed with fowls, others, with whom she took pot luck, and beyond the fact that she ate heartily and resorted frequently to the beef scrap tub, to the mash and to the water dish, there was nothing to distinguish her from other hens, in her feeding and upbringing.

The 291 eggs were of average size, white in color and about two ounces in weight, so that this fecund mother laid no less than nine times her own weight—which was four pounds—in eggs during the course of a single year. At this rate the egg-a-day hen should not now be long in making her appearance, and Professor Dryden is sanguine of being able to arrive at this acme of fecundity at his experiment farm in due course.

Army Worm in Iowa.—The army worm has recently made its appearance in Hamburg, Iowa, and threatens to do considerable damage unless its ravages can be checked. Its harmful work, at first confined to alfalfa fields, has spread to potatoes and corn. Vegetation is suffering badly on account of the drought.

Poor Feet Due to Improper Care.—"Poor feet and legs found upon the majority of horses are due directly to the lack of proper care of the colts' feet," says W. H. Palmer of the college of agriculture, Ohio State University. "To neglect to see that the foot grows out evenly," he continues, "is to contribute to a poor set of legs which influence directly the efficiency of the horse when used later. As the colt grows it may throw more weight on one side of its feet than on the other, causing that side to wear faster and producing an unbalanced condition. Nature, in her attempt to overcome this, causes the bones of the leg to adjust themselves to this condition, resulting in poorly placed and developed legs. Then the added weight to one side of the hoof. The ideal foot is one that is large and round, with the wall at the quarters sloping the same on the inside as the outside and the heels wide."

COUNCIL PASSES ORDINANCE TO LICENSE ICE DEALERS

Purpose is to Provide That Ice Must Be Sold for Cash as Well as Coupons—Reducing City's Bonded Indebtedness.

The city council held a regular meeting Monday morning and although the session was short, considerable business was transacted. Subsequent to the reading of the minutes reports of departments were called for, and as there were none, the council proceeded in the second reading of an ordinance regulating the sale of ice, and it was adopted by a unanimous vote.

The ordinance, which was introduced by Mayor Davis, provides for a monthly license fee of 50 cents for ice dealers and that all ice must weigh an amount equivalent to that charged for, and that scales must be carried upon all wagons and customers may have the right of seeing ice weighed. Fines are provided ranging from $10 to $100. It is understood to be the purpose of the ordinance to provide in the licenses for ice dealers the requirement to sell ice for either money or coupons. The council has been unanimous in the feeling that it would not be fair to the smaller or infrequent users of ice to compel them to purchase a book of coupons.

The ordinance prepared by the board of local improvements for a tarvia pavement on South Prairie street, extending from State street to Edmond, was given the first reading and then was laid over under the rules. A resolution was introduced setting forth that whereas the holders of $18,000 in bonds payable in July, 1919, had signified their willingness to accept payment of the same, that a sum approximating $2,500, now in the bond interest fund, be transferred to the sinking fund. The total in the sinking fund will thus be made approximately $12,000 and from this sum $6,000 will be applied to the bonds due July 1, and $6,000 on the $18,000 due in 1919. Mayor Davis explained that this sum had accrued in the sinking fund from the action of the council in continuing to raise $4,200 yearly in the bond interest fund. This was the levy originally made, and by continuing it it is possible to meet the yearly interest and the sum which has accrued is now to be used in paying off further indebtedness. Mr. Knollenberg said the city had been able under the commission form to draw 3 per cent on the balance in the fund, but the paying of the bonds meant large savings.

The records of the city show that there is now due on the issue of 1899, or rather will be subsequent to July 1, $41,500. The city's indebtedness for registered bonds is $54,000, and $4000 of these bonds will be paid off July 1. The total bonded indebtedness of the city, therefore, will be $31,500 after July 1. The total indebtedness of the city is now very much less than it was when the present city council went into office. Before the council adjourned Mayor Davis announced that General Manager Chubbuck would be in the city for a conference at 1:30.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Bids will be received by the commissioners of road district No. 3, Morgan county, Illinois, for the construction of a reinforced concrete culvert, said culvert to be located within three-fourths of a mile of the village of Concord, at the Farmers' and Merchants bank at the farm of A. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the county superintendent of highways in the city hall building, Jacksonville, Illinois.

WILL ARGUE MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IN HENRY CASE TODAY

Jurors Who Returned Verdict Will Be Questioned—Defense to Present Affidavits That Three Had Expressed Opinions Prior to Trial.

Judge Jones convened the Morgan county circuit court Monday morning and a number of important matters were considered during the day. In the John Henry case a motion was entered for the court to hear evidence in support of the motion for a new trial, in part by examination of the jurors who decided the case. Subsequently all the jurors who served in the case were summoned to appear in court today.

The case which will test the validity of the city ordinance prohibiting liquor shipments occupied much of the time of the court in the afternoon and at a night session. This is a suit brought by the city against the Chicago & Alton.

In the Henry case argument will be made this morning and it is understood that the defense will direct their attention particularly to John Berger of Meredosie, A. A. McNeal of Sinclair and W. H. Hansmeier of the Joy Prairie neighborhood relative to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and that they had expressed such opinions. It is alleged that affidavits will be introduced to prove that one of the jurors said publicly that if he served on the jury that he would vote to hang Henry. It is charged that another of the three jurors mentioned presided as judge at a sort of mock trial where the guilt or innocence of Henry was the question under discussion. From indications yesterday all the jurors who served in the case will appear this morning and Judge Jones as well as attorneys will take part in the examination.

detainer. The case is an appeal from Squire Dyer's justice of the peace court.

The plaintiff's, Emily R. Ehrick, William A. Dyer, James F. Dyer, Charles F. Dyer, George W. Dyer, Elsie Dyer, Hazel Bellamey, and Blanche Coker, the only heirs of William A. Dyer, deceased, allege that the defendants have withheld property from the said heirs. When the case came up for trial before Squire Dyer on May 23 last, the defendants did not contest the claim and the justice therefore found that the plaintiffs were entitled to the property and ordered that it be restored to them. The property in question is 13 acres off the east side of 30 1-2 acres off the south end of the east one-half, east one-half, southwest one-fourth of section 5, township 14, range 9.

HOW TO CULTIVATE CORN.

O. F. Conklin, gave a dissertation yesterday on the cultivation of corn. He said the prime object was to destroy the weeds and keep the top of the ground always well pulverized so as to conserve the moisture. Hence shallow cultivation was best and it should not be stopped in June either but kept till the corn began to form ears. The great thing was to keep the top of the ground constantly pulverized, the finer the better and thus keep in all the moisture possible. Cracks in the ground meant the escape of much valuable moisture and should be avoided. Cultivator shovels should not be too large nor long but rather such as will keep the surface clear of weeds and well ground into fine dirt. In this way the best crops will be raised and it is wonderful to see what a difference such cultivation will make in dry weather.

RUNAWAY ON HARDIN AVENUE.
The two sons of Tom Walsh, residing at 1125 South Hardin avenue, were the unfortunate victims of a runaway Monday afternoon.

The boys, aged seven and twelve, were driving down Hardin avenue. At the corner of Roult street one of the shafts broke, causing the wagon to run into a telephone pole. The horse became frightened and started to run, throwing the boys from the wagon. The younger received several severe cuts and a dislocated finger. The other was thrown against the curb on his back. Dr. A. M. King was called immediately and the wounds were dressed. From last reports the children were resting easily, but it is not yet known just how serious the results of the accident may be.

DOUBLE TRACK COMPLETED.
Work on the section of track between the Wabash and the C. & A. crossings on the C. B. & Q. road, was completed Monday and the Burlington has a double track through the city without a break. The moving of the C. P. & St. L. freight house a short time ago was among the changes which made possible the new section. The double track will lessen the work at the Burlington station and make it unnecessary for a man to be on duty the entire night.

How I Produced 12 Pounds of Beef From One Bushel of Corn.

I bought 44 cattle through Milton Marshall & Co., St. Louis, of Henry Wright, they averaged 961 pounds. March 19, 1914 in St. Louis. I put them in dry lots March 27th, fed them all they would clean up in 30 minutes, crushed corn, cob and all then cooked in the 50 bushel size Wood's Grain Softener.

I put them on grass May 25th, they averaged 1200 lbs. when put on grass. While in dry lot I gave each steer 5 lbs. clover hay. After they ate their grain, I kept oat straw before them all the time, but they would not eat over one bale of straw per day. I fed at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., at regular hours.

I measured the grain fed with a No. 8 scoop, feeding 50 scoops at each feed or 100 scoops per day, all they would clean up. I put in 20 bushels ground cob corn and all into a 50 bushel vat. This will fill it making 50 bushels feed, which makes 4 feeds, all they will clean up. I drew 50 gallons of syrup off and added 50 gallons of water, then added 1 1-2 bushels of ground oats and shorts, with which I am feeding 80 pigs that are doing well.

I will feed the cattle about 30 days longer and would be glad to have any one interested come and see them.

he has yellow whiskers leaking, and hanging to his feet. When from that palace he emerges, and joins the dizzy throng that surges along, a mile after mile, the girls remark: "He is a dandy! A man like that would come in handy when weddings are in style!" Some say the barbers man is chronic in his desire to sell his tonsor, or stuff for growing hair. But that's a fable, old and dizzy; the modern barber's still and busy when you are in his chair, I've never had a barber bore me, when he was busy, bending o'er me, with razor or with shears; he simply mows the vegetation, and leaves the silver tongue oration for cuffs and auctioneers. The barber's hand is most caressing, his appointed lotion is a blessing, his chair is good and restful, and he should have an oaken chest full of roubles, and a yacht.

Mr. Brennan said that it seemed to him that the best thing to do was to stick to the ordinance that was already adopted and that the question of rates could be taken up by the commission speedily. He said that he and the other commissioners would be willing to go at once to the commission for a temporary rate and that he believed action could be secured in ten days' time. Mr. Chubbuck maintained that the utility board is not in a position to get at rates, that their working organization is as yet so incomplete that it would be a year or two years before the commission could make an inquisition of the local property and at all of the facts necessary before fixing a rate. He said it would be a serious matter for a board to make an action of this kind and that board members certainly would not rush in and make a hasty decision. Mr. Newman said he considered the various provision of the franchise simply as taking care of the interests of the city and while there might be certain objectionable features therein from Mr. Chubbuck's to accept all the rates provided in the franchise ordinances, then the company did not go before the commission seek to make a showing and ask higher rates.

COURT RULING BRINGS CHANGE IN STOCK MART

U. S. Supreme Court Favors
Title Claims of S. P. to California Oil Lands

QUOTATIONS RISE SWIFTLY

NEW YORK, June 22.—After the receipt from Washington of the familiar announcement that no decision would be given during the day in the freight rate case, the stock market settled down for another day of waiting. Speculation was dull during the morning with a slow downward movement. The course of the market was changed abruptly, however, by the decree of the United States supreme court favoring the title claims of the Southern Pacific railroad to California oil lands.
The ruling of the court caused a sudden rush of buying orders and the quotation of the stock mounted swiftly.

Demand From Commission Houses.
There was a demand from commission houses as well as from mar-traders and at the close the price was 7 7/8, a gain of more than three points. The manner in which Southern Pacific responded to the decision attracted attention to the strong position of the general market, causing covering of shorts and speculative shares joined in an upward movement.

Stimulating Effect Wears Off.
In the early trading chief interest lay in the action of the Rock Island securities. The stimulating effect on the bonds of the re-organization plan, causing the upturn of Saturday had worn off and quotations were lower all around.

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." —Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ORGANIZED BASEBALL WINS ANOTHER VICTORY

Federal Judge Sanborn Grants Temporary Injunction Restraining Marsans From Playing With St. Louis Federals.

St. Paul, Minn., June 22.—Organized baseball won another decisive victory tonight when Federal Judge W. H. Sanborn granted a temporary injunction restraining Armando Marsans, former Cuban left fielder of the Cincinnati "Reds" from playing with the St. Louis club of the Federal League or any other ball club except the "Reds" until the alleged breach of contract he is charged with has been tried in United States district court in St. Louis. While the action is pending Judge Sanborn ordered the Cincinnati exhibition company, owners of the "Reds", to give a bond of $13,000 to indemnify Marsans for any possible loss he might sustain as a result of the injunction. The validity of the ten day clause in organized baseball contracts was upheld by Judge Sanborn. He based his decision on the fact that Marsans accepted a contract in writing in which the Cincinnati "Reds" agreed to employ him for a specified period at a fixed compensation on condition that the club should have the right to discharge him upon ten day's notice. The contract was valid and binding after Marsans entered upon the performance of the contract and received the compensation according to the terms of the agreement, the court held.

The court also held that Marsans' ability as a baseball player was extraordinary and unique and that it was impossible for the Cincinnati "Reds" to replace him with another player, equally as good.

That he was not an exceptional ball player was the statement made in affidavit filed by Marsans.

Judge Sanborn's opinion says: "It is a settled rule of law that where a person agrees to render services that are unique and extra ordinary and which may not be rendered by another and has made a negative covenant in his agreement whereby he promises not to render such services to others, the court may issue an injunction to prevent him from violating the negative covenant in order to induce him to perform his contract. The facts of this case seem to me to bring it under this rule."

LEE HARLAN HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harlan, of Chicago, are visiting Mr. Harlan's nephew, Mr. A. G. Burr and family, of Mound avenue. Mr. Harlan is well known to many of our older people, having clerked in the Wm. P. Barr establishment from 1865 to 1872. Mr. Harlan's father, Levi Harlan, was postmaster at Winchester for many years, and upon his death his wife was appointed in his place, and Lee went back to Winchester, his old home to assist his mother. Lee and his older brother, John, also had a store in connection with the office. They gave up the post office about 1882 and transferred their store business to Wellington, Kansas, where they continued until about 1890, when Lee went to Chicago, and has since been in the employ of Marshall Field & Co. there. Harlan married Miss Fannie Shepard, of Springfield.

The Harlans and their connections are of the old families of Illinois. Mr. Levi Harlan having come to this state in 1835. His sister was the wife of John P. Wilkinson, one of our early leading men. He built the first brick store in Jacksonville, now occupied by J. Herman. Mr. Wilkinson also built the large brick house in which Mr. E. R. Elliott lived for some years before 1863, at the southeast corner of College avenue and Church street. Mr. Elliott then built the house now on West State street near Prairie. Mrs. Levi Harlan was a half-sister of Mrs. Dr. Askew of Grove street.

Levi Harlan was twice married, and his son, the Rev. Geo. W. Harlan was a child of the first marriage. He is now living at Farmington, Mo. He is one of the oldest living graduates of Illinois college, having been graduated in the class of 1846.

One of Mr. Levi Harlan's daughters married the late Hon. A. G. Burr; another married Webb C. Wilkinson, and another a Mr. Harris. The Rev. George W. and Lee are now the last survivors of the family.

Mr. Levi Harlan and his wife were both natives of old Virginia. They and their children have been of the people of Illinois, and their acquaintances are enjoying meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harlan again.

During his vacation Mr. Harlan expects to visit the old home town of Winchester.

FARMERS BUSY IN BATTLES WITH THE CHINCH BUGS

Pest Attacking Many Fields of Corn —Means of Stopping Damage Explained by Entomologists.

This is certainly a year of bugs, and just now the farmers in this vicinity, that is, many of them, are engaged in a warfare against chinch bugs. The situation has been so acute for a day or two that many farmers could be found last Sunday busy with spades and shovels constructing ditches in which they hoped to catch a great many of the bugs and stop their progress to their corn fields. The chinch bug is active in various parts of Morgan county, but down in Greene county conditions are worse. In some cases the farmers have used salt and coal oil with good effect, and in others creosote has seemed to do the best work.

The best remedy that is the most economical and the most easily applied is road oil. However, it is not possible to get road oil in Jacksonville just now. W. H. Cocking has plenty of oil, such as is used on roads, but he said yesterday that the road oil used for bug fighting has a larger percentage of asphaltum in it. The nearest point to Jacksonville for this product is Whiting, Ind., and it requires several weeks for a shipment. It is a curious fact, too, that tar has been used locally to such an extent in fighting various kinds of insects that the supply of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company has been entirely exhausted.

The following facts concerning chinch bugs and the manner of fighting them are taken from a U. S. department of agriculture bulletin in the library of the Farmers' State Bank and Trust company and from a bulletin issued by S. A. Forbes, state entomologist:

Has Caused Great Losses. "Few insects, and certainly no other species of the natural order to which this one belongs, have caused such enormous pecuniary losses as has the chinch bug. No other insect native to the western hemisphere has spread its devastating hordes over a wide area of country with more fatal effects to the staple grain of North America than has this one. But for the susceptibility of very young wheat seedlings to the chinch bug, and to the less, though not insignificant, fatal rainy seasons of the parasite fungus spore, on both the adults and young, the practice of raising grain year after year on the same areas, as is followed in some parts of the United States, would become altogether unprofitable. Some of this insect's own habits, emphasizing as they do the effects of meteorological conditions, are among the most potent influences that serve to hold it within bounds by giving its tendency to excessive increase a decidedly spasmodic character.

The Harvest Situation. "The point of present interest is, consequently, the situation at harvest time, when the old bugs which wintered over will be practically all dead, and the new generation will, as yet, be reaching the winged stage. After the ripening of the wheat they will be presently obliged to leave the field on foot in search of food; and it is at this time that they may be destroyed in vast numbers by sowing, trapping and killing them on the borders of the field which they are trying to leave. If this is done by entire communities acting together on a prearranged plan, the chinch bug population may be so reduced as greatly to lessen the danger of injury to corn. If they are permitted to escape from a grain field on foot and to enter fields of corn adjacent, they may be destroyed as they collect on the outer rows of the corn, by spraying them there with a dilute tobacco preparation which will kill all the bugs it touches, with no injury whatever to the corn plant itself. By this means the first and worst injury to corn may be prevented; but the crop will be subjected to a later and more general injury as the bugs have been permitted to escape from small grain corn to lay eggs there for the second generation. The chinch bug multiplies at an average rate, under favorable conditions, of at least one hundred to one, and it is especially important that the generation which breeds in the wheat and oats shall be kept down to the lowest possible numbers, since otherwise they are likely to produce a hundred times as many as infest the corn.

Oil Line and Hole Traps. "The best single method of killing the bugs at harvest time is to lay a narrow line of unusually heavy road oil, known to the Standard Oil company as Road oil No. 7, on a properly prepared strip around the border of the infested field of wheat or early oats, having first dug along this strip a row of shallow foot holes 30 feet apart in which the bugs may be trapped. The hungry and desperate insects, finding themselves unable to cross this road oil line, and traveling back and forth along it in search of a passage way, will tumble into the post holes in great quantities, and there they may be killed from time to time by pouring a little kerosene or crude petroleum into each hole. Often, indeed, this is unnecessary, as the bugs die in the holes without special treatment.

"To give this method of operation a fair chance of success, neighborhoods or communities must act together, and the larger the community co-operating the more profitable will be the work for each member of it. If the road oil is laid along only one side of a field, for the protection of corn adjacent, the bugs which escape from the other sides will presently grow up, get wings, and fly in all directions to infest whatever crops remain during the latter part of the summer; and if only one person here and there takes the proper measures, the bugs escaping from his neighbor's fields will presently fly from all directions into his own, and lay their eggs for the second generation. Organized cooperation and a general attack at harvest time are the only effective means of protection.

Detailed Directions. "The efficiency of the road oil line depends largely on the judgment and care with which the strip has been made ready for the oil, and methods must differ according to the weather of the season and the condition of the soil. If the weather has been fairly moist, and the soil is in condition to plow, a ridge should be made at the edge of the grain field by first removing any very coarse vegetation, and then plowing a back furrow around the field so deep that the mellow soil will be left on top. The ridge should next be packed and smoothed by running a heavy roller over it several times, and post holes should be dug on the side of the ridge next to the infested grain every 30 feet to a depth of 18 inches. The road oil should then be poured along the center of the ridge in a way to touch each post hole on the outer side. Oil No. 7 is made to pour freely at a temperature of about 80 degrees F., and if the weather is cooler than this it may be necessary to warm it slightly before pouring. The oil may be poured from an ordinary sprinker which can with a tubular spout, from a tin or galvanized iron pail, at one side of the bottom of which a round hole has been made about an inch across. A broomstick or the like, should be whittled to fit the hole, and by raising or lowering this the flow of the oil may be regulated at will. A line of oil which will spread on the ground to a strip an inch in diameter will be sufficient. The line must be closely watched, especially for the first two or three days, and renewed if it soaks into the ground or if its surface hardens in a way to allow the chinch bugs to cross. It may be necessary to pour the oil upon the line twice the first day, but after a time once in two or three days will commonly be sufficient. It is well to have the ridge prepared some time before the movement of the bugs is likely to begin, in order to give time for a settling of the dirt and a hardening of the surface.

"In case the ground, owing to drouth, is so dry and hard that a plowed ridge can not be prepared, a smooth bare strip or path five or six inches wide may be made by simply scraping away all vegetation from the surface with hoes or spades—or a small road scraper may be used—after which the holes may be dug and the road oil laid as already described. It is sometimes more convenient to make a smooth, bare, hard surface on very dry ground by plowing two shallow furrows, in a way to make a single deep furrow about two feet wide. The bottom of this may then be smoothed with hoes or shovels, and the oil line laid down as before. The above methods are to be preferred in the order in which they have been described.

"It is necessary to keep the oil line and the traps in good condition until the bugs have virtually ceased to move out of the stubble—a time which will vary according to the weather and the number of bugs in the field, being six to ten days when the weather is hot and dry and the bugs are numerous, and a fortnight or more when the weather is moist and comparatively cool and the field is only moderately infested.

Coal Tar as a Substitute. "While road oil No. 7 is must the best and cheapest material known to us for this purpose, it has the disadvantage that it is not made for any other use, and must consequently be ordered a fortnight or more in advance, that the refiners may prepare and ship it in time. If for any reason it can not be obtained, the same ends may be accomplished in precisely the same way by the use of ordinary coal tar, obtainable at the gas works in every town where coal gas is made. This has the serious disadvantage, as compared with the oil, that while it costs about the same, it does not last as long upon the ground, and must consequently be much more frequently renewed, at an increased expense of both labor and material.

The Dusty Furrow. "In case none of these things are done and the season is very dry, it is sometimes possible to stop and trap the bugs by means of a dusty furrow, made by plowing a strip about five feet wide entirely around the field. This is very fine, being a dead furrow down the middle of the strip, and dragging a log edge-wise back and forth until the sides and bottom of the furrow are thoroughly pulverized. Post holes may then be dug in the furrow at distances of 20 or 30 feet. This will act as a successful barrier until the first shower or rain, after which the bugs will cross it as readily as they would move over level ground. The oil line, on the other hand, is not injured by rain except where dirt may be washed across it, and there it is readily renewed by additional pouring before the bugs begin to move.

An Effective Liquid Bug Killer. "If, notwithstanding the possibilities with these various methods, the chinch bugs are permitted to escape from the ripening wheat or the stubble and move into fields of corn adjacent they should be killed as they gather on the outer rows and before they have spread through the field by spraying them thoroughly with a soap and tobacco mixture of the following composition.

"In 16 gallons of water (soft water preferred) dissolve completely 1½ pounds of soap ("soap powder" is the best for the purpose,) and to this add 4 ounces of tobacco preparation known to the trade as Black Leaf 40. The mixture will cost, for materials, approximately three cents a gallon, and enough of it to give an effective treatment to infested corn from 6 to 14 inches high will cost $1.40 per acre of the corn treated. It may be applied in any convenient way, but most readily and effectively by means of a small, readily portable, atomizer sprayer, so adjusted as to throw a small solid stream. A single application has killed, in our careful field experiments, from 75 to 90 per cent of the chinch bugs on the corn, with no injury whatever to the plants."

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF MRS. JOHN CASSELL. We have lost our darling Ella; She has bid us all adieu; She has gone to live in heaven And her form is lost to view. Oh, how dear one, how we loved her, Oh, how hard to give her up! But an angel came down for her And removed her from our flock.

Weep not that her toils are over, Weep not that her race is run. God grant we may rest as calmly When our work, like hers, is done. Till then we gladly yield our daughter For Him to watch, protect and keep, Rejoicing in the sweet assurance That "He giveth his loved ones sleep."

Call not back the dear departed, Anchored safe where storms are o'er, On the borderland we left her Soon to meet and part no more. When we leave this world of care We shall find our missing loved one In our Father's mansion fair.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord When love has bound the heart, 'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words, "We must sever part." Dearest loved one, we must lay thee In the peaceful grave's embrace, But thy memory will be cherished Till we see thy sunny face.

Earth has lost its look of gladness, Heaven seems to us more bright Since the spirit of our dear one Took its happy homeward flight; And we long to cross the river, Long to rest upon that shore, There to see and know and love thee With the Savior, evermore.

It is sad that one we cherish Should be taken from our home, But the joys that do not perish Live in memory alone. All the years we've spent together, All the happy, golden hours, Shall be cherished in remembrance, Fragrant, sweet, from memory's flowers.

SULPHUR IS THE ONLY THING FOR ITCHING ECZEMA

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue Irritation and Clear Skin.

In the treatment of the various forms of disfiguring, itching and burning Eczema such as Acne, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, there is nothing known that can take the place of bold-sulphur cream.

It effects such prompt relief, even in the aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. Bold-sulphur is not only parasiticidal, but antipruritic and antiseptic, therefore invaluable in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; soothes the irritation and heals the inflamed, raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should obtain from any good pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the abrasion like an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome.—adv.

IN MEMORIAM.

James Arthur Bringle, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bringle, was born May 26, 1914, and died Sunday, June 21, 1914.

The little crib is empty now;
 The little clothes laid by;
 A mother's hope, a father's joy
 In death's cold arms doth lie.
 Go, little pilgrim, to thy home
 On yonder blissful shore;
 We miss thee here, but soon will come
 Where thou hast gone before.

This lovely bud, so young and fair,
 Called hence by early doom,
 Just came to show how sweet a flower
 In Paradise would bloom.

Ere sin could harm or sorrow fade,
 Death came with friendly care;
 The opening bud to Heaven conveyed,
 And bade it blossom there.

Farewell, dear, but not forever;
 There will be a glorious dawn;
 We shall meet to part, no never,
 On the resurrection morn.

Though thy darling form lies sleeping
 In the cold and silent tomb,
 Thou shalt have a glorious waking
 When the blessed Lord doth come.

Just What She Needed.
 There is an old saying that "There is a remedy for every ill." It is sometimes years before you find the remedy exactly suited to your case. Mrs. Rachel Cribble, Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation. She writes, "My neighbors spoke so enthusiastically of Chamberlain's Tablets that I procured a bottle of them. A few days' treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued to use them for several weeks and they cured me." For sale by all dealers.—adv.

ARGUE DEMURRER IN C. & A. LIQUOR SHIPMENT CASE

Finding Will Indicate Probable Legal Status of the City Ordinance Against Liquor Shipments Into Jacksonville.

Argument on a demurrer entered by the Chicago & Alton railroad company in a civil suit brought against the company, was heard in the circuit court Monday afternoon and evening. The suit filed by the city charges the railroad company with shipping in and delivering intoxicating liquors in Jacksonville and asks for $100 damages.

Monday afternoon W. T. Wilson, for the company, and P. P. Thompson, for the city, presented their argument and at a night session James H. Danskin for the city, presented his argument on why the demurrer should be over ruled.

Mr. Danskin stated that in his opinion the ultimate aim of the legislature in passing the local option ordinance was to destroy and to denounce, discourage and stop as far as possible the sale of liquor. He quoted cases tending to show that the purpose of the local option law is being thwarted by the shipping of liquor into dry territory, that the liquor business is not a legitimate one, that the use of intoxicants in any degree is harmful and closed by saying that if the ordinance is overthrown the bootleggers will shout for glory and that if it is sustained the good people will voice their appreciation in prayer.

Mr. Wilson stated that he appeared for the railroad company to argue the case as a legal proposition. He said that the defendant's case was merely a question as exact length and breadth of the power given to the city; that the unreasonableness of the ordinance stands out all over and he urged the consideration of the question as a legal one and no other.

Judge Jones stated that in his opinion the city should not be hampered in any reasonable effort to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors, but that while the city has the power to prevent the shipping in of liquor for sale, it has not the power to prohibit the shipping in of liquor by an individual for his own temperate use. He said that he was not clear as to whether a part of the ordinance in question could be held valid and another part invalid and that this question would determine his ruling on the demurrer.

CIRCUIT JUDGE DIES SUDDENLY

R. B. SHIRLEY SUCCUMBES TO ACUTE INDIGESTION.

Well Known Jurist Collapses While on Way to Interurban Station in Carlinville.—Governor Dunne to Appoint a Successor.

Springfield, June 22.—Stricken with acute indigestion at Carlinville, while on his way to the interurban depot to board a car for Springfield, where he was to preside over a branch of the Sangamon county circuit court, Judge Robert B. Shirley, one of the most widely known jurists in Illinois, died at his home there at 10 o'clock this morning.

Judge Shirley was taken ill at 7:30 o'clock. With some assistance he was able to walk back to his residence but sank quickly. He had been complaining of indisposition for some weeks.

While in Springfield holding court last week, he expressed dissatisfaction at his condition and planned to end his judicial duties as early as possible in July in order to gain a thorough rest before resuming work on the bench next autumn. He presided last week here over the chancery side of the court. The last case he tried was a suit to contest the will of John B. Evans. He returned to Carlinville late Friday and was due back here this morning.

Judge Shirley was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Burke Vancell of this city, having married her sister, Miss Harriett G. Speldley, October 30, 1910. Mr. and Mrs. Burke Vancell were in Mt. Pulaski today when apprised of the jurist's demise and started out by auto at once for this city, reaching here this afternoon. They will leave for Carlinville this evening.

21 Years On Circuit Bench. Judge Shirley had served twenty-one years on the circuit bench. During his career he became well known in Springfield where he has held court at intervals during the period of his incumbency. He was a staunch Democrat.

Born in Madison county, October 9, 1850, he was the son of William C. and Mary Jane Hoxey Shirley. He was reared on a farm and was a tiller of the soil until 1873 when he commenced the study of the law in the office of Attorney William R. Welch, at Carlinville.

He was admitted to the bar July 4, 1876 and went into partnership with S. T. Corn at Carlinville. In 1885 the partnership was dissolved and from that year until his election to the bench in 1893 he maintained his own office.

On October 16, 1879 he was united in marriage to Miss Henrietta W. Burton, a sister of Frank W. Burton, former state senator from Carlinville. His first wife died October 8, 1898.

Accumulated Fortune. Judge Shirley by careful investments and close economy had accumulated a large estate consisting principally of farm lands in Macoupin county.

He was a member of several fraternal societies, including the Masonic order, the Knights of Pythias and the Elks.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later. It is expected that Judge Creighton will adjourn the circuit court here on the day of the funeral and that he, with a big delegation of members of the Sangamon County Bar association, will attend the obsequies at Carlinville.

Dunne to Name Successor.

Governor Dunne will appoint a successor to fill the unexpired term of Judge Shirley. The holding of a special election, as was required when Judge Thompson resigned last January, is rendered unnecessary by a provision of the constitution which allows the executive to appoint when the unexpired portion of the term does not exceed one year.

Judge Shirley together with Judges J. A. Creighton and O. P. Thompson, was elected in June 1909 for six years. His term would have expired in June of next year when a general judicial election to elect three judges in this circuit again will be held.

DENTISTS TO MEET.

Dr. H. L. Griswold left last night to attend the alumni reunion of the classes of 1884, 1894, 1904 and 1914 dental department, University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Michigan. The doctor is a member of the class of 1894 and is anticipating much pleasure for the gathering. There are to be clinics, an address by Dr. Victor H. Jenkins of New York City, base ball game and reception.

NO BIG PICNIC AT MURRAYVILLE

At a general meeting of the congregation of the Catholic church of Murrayville it was unanimously decided by vote that there should not be a picnic this year. While possibly a source of profit to the church and of amusement to outsiders the picnic proved expensive and onerous to the congregation. The members prefer very much to pay off the church debt by donation and cheerfully consented to this method rather than the risky procedure of a picnic.

Reo Motor Car Company

LANSING, MICH., June 9th, 1914

J. W. SKINNER, Reo Sales Agent, Jacksonville, Ill.

DEAR SIR:

After consulting with many REO dealers, we wish to announce that our policy is to let well enough alone. There will be no change in the REO model, or the REO price this season.

In the past five years, during which our engineers have confined themselves to this model, the car has been brought to perfection. We have made changes as needed. Again and again important improvements have been added in mid-season.

Some of the Reasons Are These

No changes can be made in the way of improvements now. We reduced the price last year by $220. In this way we anticipated all the economies of larger sale and output.

The demand for REO the Fifth—which continues to break all records—shows that buyers are satisfied. In this car today they are getting the best value that will ever be offered we think. We are not going to stand still. We shall keep on, as always, bettering this car as fast as we find a way.

We want you to join with us in keeping up the present enthusiasm for REO the Fifth. Tell every prospect that the car won't be changed. It is as good as we can make it.

Perhaps our rivals will offer some changes as usual. They may in this way try to stir up new interest. But they cannot offer more real value than we do. They can make no changes which will make their cars more formidable competitors. Reo the Fifth will hold the same advantage as it has today—the same appeal as a super-car. And every month's production which goes out to users places us in stronger position.

We shall continue our advertising in full force during the summer and fall. A little later we will announce a larger production—three new factory buildings. These we figure, will add forty per cent to our output. In an advertising way we shall stand right with you in keeping cars moving at the present rate against any competition, new model or old.

Base all your plans on these facts. Keep pushing the same as ever. Let it be known that this model is standard. That it represents, both in body and chassis, the best that we know about car building. And the price is the lowest that ever was offered on a car built like this.

Let buyers know that we are giving them our best in this car. That we haven't in mind anything newer or better or lower in price. WE ARE, AS WE ADVERTISE, BUILDING A CAR TO KEEP. Let men know that we shall not discredit it by any new announcement.

Very sincerely yours,

REO MOTOR CAR COMPANY

R. C. RENSCHAW, Sales Manager.
